

Cookie policy

As part of a change in the law in May 2011 websites now have to make all users aware of what cookies they use. Onpartu uses a limited amount of cookies to help improve your experience of the site. 99% of all websites will use cookies which in simple terms are a very small text file that is stored on your computer so that when you access the website it will remember you and any settings you might have stored previously (visit www.allaboutcookies.org for a longer description of what a cookie is).

IMPORTANT NOTE : Cookies CANNOT access information stored elsewhere on your computer or cause any harm. They are not programs or software and are simply a plain text file. They also cannot be accessed by any other website other than the one that created it.

The types and function of the cookies we use are detailed below:

Cookie type	What is stored	When/how you give your permission for their use
Google analytics	Industry standard analytics that gives us statistics on how much traffic the website is getting	By having your web browser settings configured to not block them

You may delete and block all cookies from this site using the preferences of your browser if you so wish, but be aware parts of the site will no longer work if you do this.
